Pacesetter Youth Philosophy

First objective

Having each player with a ball during training sessions; having each player touch the ball as many times as possible during training time; having the player touch the ball with all surfaces of their feet.

Second Objective

Creating a game/training environment where the focus is on 1v1, 2v2, 2v3, 3v3, 3v4, and 4v4 drills which allows players to be constantly around the ball (touching, dribbling, faking, passing, shooting, defending). This environment encourages them to be involved in the play. We inspire the players from a very early age to feel comfortable with the ball at their feet.

Third objective

We need to build a less structured, less pressured game for the players. We need to educate the parents to let the coaches coach and the players play. This is their time to have fun, play, develop and enjoy. Winning does not matter at this age. We are going to build a structured plan without counting goals and without having established teams. The teams will be formed each session and the players will be rotated.
